

IT Executives of the Year Awards Nomination Form

January 1, 2010

Dear IT Professional,

As part of the NW CIO Summit and InnoTech – Oregon's business and technology innovation conference, the 7th Annual 'IT Executives of the Year' awards for the public and private sectors will be awarded. As the premier conference and event for senior IT executives and thought leaders in the NW, this award recognizes local IT executives and their efforts to innovate and contribute to their organizations and the IT community.

We encourage you to take an active role in selecting the recipients of this award by taking a moment to nominate an exceptional IT executive for his/her innovative work and effort. As an IT professional, your input toward the selection of the IT Executives of the Year is very important to the continued advancement of technology in Oregon and SW Washington.

This year's recipients will have demonstrated:

- a) The successful implementation of innovative technology
- b) Active participation in enhancing his/her organization's competitive advantage
- c) Leadership in the IT community

Please take a few minutes to read the enclosed nomination form and select a peer or colleague who you feel is deserving of this year's award based on the criteria provided. The deadline for submitting nominations is April 2, 2010. The winner will be announced May 6th at the awards reception at InnoTech, immediately following the NW CIO Summit.

Past IT Executives of the Year include:

2009 – Chris Dill, Trailblazers & Baron Rodriguez, State Dept. of Education

2008 – Jackie Barretta, Con-Way & John Margaronis, Oregon Lottery

2007 – Dennis Sato, Salem Regional Hospital & Ben Berry, ODOT, State of Oregon

2006 - Matthew Calais, Legacy Health Systems & Curt Pederson, Oregon State University

2005 - Nancy Cox, Intel & Mark Gregory, Portland State University

2004 - Gordon Steele, Nike & Dave White, State of Oregon, ODOT

Who will be this year's winners?

Whether you choose to nominate or not, mark your calendars to attend a VIP reception honoring the IT Executives of the Year, to be held at the Oregon Convention Center on Thursday, May 6 April 23rd at 4:30pm. Additionally, CIOs, VPs of IT and executive level IT professionals are encouraged to attend the NW CIO Summit on Thursday, April 23rd prior to the awards reception.

Sincerely,

Sean Lowery
Executive Director
